MAKE COUNTRY MUSIC GREAT AGAIN

Welcome to the second edition of Country Hit Singles. Time flies when you're having fun, and it's hard to believe that two years have passed since the first edition. There are a few changes in this version. In the previous edition the chart positions of the Airplay chart and the Hot Country Songs chart for the period 2012-2015 were combined on the artist index (and the number one listings). In this edition there are two separate artist indexes and two separate No.1 listings for the period 2012-2017.

As far as I'm concerned, the post-2012 "Hot Country Songs" chart is dead. It has become now a crossover chart that it's basically the Billboard Hot 100 chart minus the pop/rock/R&B/hip hop/dance tracks. The songs stay forever at the top position and hits like "Body Like A Back Road" and "Meant To Be" (which is nearly a year at the top) are spending countless weeks at number one. It's really a ridiculous chart right now, that no one takes seriously, especially the country music industry.

The Country Airplay Top 60 remains the official US country chart which is the main country chart that I use in my research for the Artist index published in this book. There's also a bonus separate section that contains the chart peak positions of the "Hot Country Songs" chart, mostly for sentimental reasons.

Under the new chart methodology an artist like George Jones wouldn't have a chance on today's Hot Country Songs chart. His highest charting single on the Hot 100 was "White Lightning" at #73 in 1959. Anne Murray's "You Needed Me" was a #1 hit on the pop charts in 1978. It peaked at #4 on the country charts the same year. Under the new methodology 'Needed' would have spent 30 weeks at Number One.

I'm not satisfied with the Airplay chart either (even though it's better than the 'Hot' chart) because it's very slow. It takes months and months for the songs to reach their peak position. There are occasions where certain songs have peaked on the Airplay chart almost a year after their chart debut. The chart was much faster back in the 1990s. Also the playlists are very tight right now, and fewer songs became hits, not to mention that the chart is misogynistic. True, Lauren Alaina had two chart toppers, but Kacey Musgraves flops, and Lindsay Ell hasn't yet hit the Top Ten, despite the fact that her latest album was a Top 5 hit. "Criminal" peaked at #19 only on the radio chart. Cassadee Pope's latest single is nowhere to be found on the country radio charts.

I try to promote all the new country artists through my sites and my fanzines, but sometimes it's very difficult. I was the first one to discover Luke Combs, and "Hurricane" was #1 on our CMC Top 50 chart (Country Music Champions) long before it became a Top 40 hit in America (and eventually a Number One).

However, some of our favorite artists can't make it. Waterloo Revival's "Hit The Road" was my favorite country song of 2015, but it peaked at #51 on the Country Airplay chart. It was #1 on our chart. Maggie Rose's career went nowhere and Southern Halo had 3 top ten hits on our country charts, but neither of them made an impact on the Billboard country charts.

Of course there were always cases of "lost" and underrated artists and songs. I remember how much I used to love acts like Joy (Lynn) White, Mila Mason (a dark horse indeed), Ronna Reeves etc. I used to buy their CDs along with all the new releases by mainstream artists like Sammy Kershaw, Mary Chapin Carpenter, etc.

For instance, Alison Moorer's masterpiece "A Soft Place To Fall" was one of my top ten favorite country songs of 1998. It peaked at #73 on the Billboard country charts. What a major disappointment for me! Moorer is sister of the talented Shelby Lynne (another 'lost' artist) and Steve Earle's ex-wife.

The moral of the story is that chart positions mean nothing. Tony Bennett's signature song "I Left My Heart In San Francisco" peaked at #19 on the pop charts, while George Strait's best song, his cover version of Terry Stafford's "Amarillo By Morning" never went to number one on the country charts (it was a top five hit though).

Many country songs that I love, never make the charts, while certain stupid songs hit the top ten. It's the same with rock music. Velvet Underground and Nico's 1967 classic album (with the Andy Warhol cover) peaked only at #129. It's definitely one of the best rock albums of all time (and a personal favorite of mine). The same period, the untalented Monkees had 4 number one albums on the Billboard Top 200. Go figure!

Nowadays with the online streaming, the current charts are a mess. Especially the pop charts. They are very slow, and the artists have dozens of chart 'hits' (or so-called hits). The Glee Cast had more chart entries than the Beatles during the period 2009-2013. Lil' Wayne has more Hot 100 chart hits than Elvis.

So, the next time that your favorite artist or song flops on the charts, try to remember that these things don't mean a thing. It's your personal taste that matters, not the charts. The same goes for movies, TV, books etc. Have you seen lately the quality of the box office movies? Yikes

I dedicate this book to all the honky tonk heroes of mine, the cowboys and the songwriters who left their mark on country music history, from Jimmie Rodgers in the 1920s to Jon Pardi in the 2010s. Thank you for everything!

MULTIPLE COUNTRY CHARTS 1948 - 1958 / 2012 - 2017

The single's chart debut date in this book is taken from the chart on which it first appeared if it hit more than one of the following country singles charts published from 1948-1958:

Best Sellers, Jockeys, Juke Boxes. The single's highest position listed in the peak position column is taken from the chart on which it achieved its highest ranking. Also, that single's total weeks at #1 position are taken from the chart on which it achieved its highest total.

From October 2012 through 2017 there are two separate listings; on the main index are listed ONLY the Country Airplay chart peak positions (the Airplay chart is now the official US Country Music chart), and there's also a bonus section that contains the "Hot Country Songs" chart peak positions.

The Light Edition of this book doesn't contain the single's total weeks charted.

ARTIST INDEX

In this section of Country Hit Singles, we list every record that has hit the country Top 100 singles chart from 1944 through 2017.

The information is presented alphabetically by artist's first name (instead of the surname), and then chronologically for each hit.

Each hit single is catalogued with the following information: date disc first hit the chart, title of hit, highest position the hit reached on the chart, total number of weeks weeks spent on the chart and total number of weeks spent at #1.

The Light Edition does not contain the total number of weeks spent on the chart.

From October 2012 through 2017 there are two separate listings; on the main index are listed ONLY the Country Airplay chart peak positions, while there's also a bonus section that contains the "Hot Country Songs" chart peak positions.

#1 HITS

This section lists, in chronological order, the Number One Singles from January 1944 to December 2017.

For the years 1948 through 1958 Billboard published more than one weekly country chart (Best Sellers, Juke Box, Disc Jockeys).

The date shown is the earliest date that a record hit # 1 on any of the country charts. The weeks bold column lists the total weeks at # 1, from whichever chart it achieved its highest total. This total is not a combined total from the various country charts.

Because of the multiple charts used in our research, some dates are duplicated, as certain # 1 hits may have peaked on the same week on different charts; therefore, the total weeks for each year may calculate out to more than 52.

From 20 October 2012, the Country Airplay Number One Songs and the Number One Hits on the "Hot Country Songs" chart are listed separately.

◆ Indicates record hit # 1, dropped down, then returned to the # 1 spot.

YEAR-END CHARTS

This section lists, in chronological order, the Annual Top 10 charts from 1946 to 2017. These are the original Year-End charts as they published in Billboard magazine.

There is also a separate book that contains the complete scanned pages from Billboard's Year-End Chart Issues which include also the Top Artists for each year.

The previous Heavy Edition of this book contained the entire Annual charts but they cannibalized the sales of the Country Annual PDF book, so they were removed from the second edition.

The new Light Edition of this book does not contain the annual Top Ten lists.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Leonidas Fragias is the proud owner of one of the largest record collections which includes nearly every charted hit in Europe and America from the early 1900s to 2018.

Whether it's a John Sousa march, a bossa nova album from Astrud Gilberto, an EDM track from Avicii, a hard rock record from Poison, a hip hop single from N.W.A. or a pop CD from Whitney Houston, Leon's rich music collection occupies an entire room in his house.

Leonidas also has a rich DVD / blu-ray / video collection, because he's a big fan of movies and he's the author of the best-selling "Box Office" books. He also collects many books and comics (especially those from the late 1950s to the early 1990s).

Born in Athens, Greece, Leonidas bought his first album in 1982 (it was the "Rocky III" soundtrack...not the greatest choice, but he was only 10 years old at the time). The first artist album he ever purchased was the eponymous 1983 album by Nena. Leonidas had a huge teenage crush on the famous German singer back then.

When he was a teenager back in the 1980s he used to spend his allowance on records (compilation albums like the British version of "Now That's What I Call Music", LP's, singles, and VHS tapes) and magazines like Billboard and Rolling Stone among others.

He's the creator of many popular sites on the internet about music, movies and comics.
